

March 21st, 2018

Dictated after finishing the previous writing about Obedience.

My children, now I speak to both¹ of you, My Bishops to whom I have entrusted the care of this city², and whom I have called to be united to this Work that I am doing here and now.

A great call, a great responsibility, a great sacrifice and offering, and a great joy for your God.

My sons, look at the witness of life of this little group of Mine, these little ones of Mine whom I have gathered here, who have remained faithful to Me through so many trials.

They have obeyed Me. What I have asked of each one of them and as a group. This obedience has cost them much. Humiliations, incomprehension, trials, deserts, and My formation in an unshakable Faith that has made them die while yet living.

My sons, these little children of Mine are docile to Me. Do not put obstacles in their way. They give to you the proper respect, they surround you with their prayer, they accompany you in spirit, and they are your collaborators and most useful workers, because they serve Me wholeheartedly.

True unity, children, comes from docility to MY WILL, MY DESIRE. The union between you is the fruit of your individual union with Me.

These children of Mine are one in My Heart, and they work so that each of My children may have this union with Me, and so that My desire³ to have you all as one, united with Me, sharing all that is Mine, may be fulfilled.

My sons, this unity in My flock, in My Church, that you long for so much, is accomplished by Me, when you fulfill My Will.

My Church is so fragmented, wounded, because so many have forgotten Me, ignoring My Will, ignoring Me; and in ignoring Me, they do not know My Will, and as they do not know My Will, how can they fulfill it? They forget My action, and they become dependent only on their own criteria, their own ideas and desires, and thus divisions arise, the fragmenting of My Mystical Body.

¹ Archbishop Gustavo García-Siller and Bishop Michael Boulette

² San Antonio, Texas

³ Reference to His prayer to the Father on the night of the Last Supper.

How much, how much pain, My sons, at seeing this division.

Understand Me, sons of My Heart, remember what is the purpose of everything – to gather all My children in Truth, so that we may all be together in the Union of Love that is Heaven, that is the Eternal Embrace of Our Most Holy Trinity.

Help Me, sons.

I have great plans of Mercy, and I share them with you, but I need you to listen to Me.

Take a time of prayer with Me, and I will speak to your heart, I will speak to you of My Plans.

I am your Jesus, your All, Who gives all to you, and Who asks for all in return.

Do not be afraid of this little flock, they are part of My Plan, they are faithful to Me, and I want to see you united in My Will, united in My Love.

Your Jesus loves you, and gives these Words to you that come from Me; simple Words, written with a defective pen :), but coming from Me.

Trust in your Jesus.

May My blessing descend upon you, My little ones.

Do not be deaf to My Voice, it is the Voice that speaks to you in your heart, the Voice that speaks in My Gospels.

It is My Voice.

Jesus,

Lord and Master of All +